Description

Ultra compact pre-pressurised Jabsco accumulator tank (pressure tank) will give you a smoother water flow, quieter operation, will save your battery power and will extend the life of your pressure pump. A must for every caravan, boat or marine pressurised water pump system!

The quality Jabsco accumulator tank will hold a store of pressurised water to reduce unnecessary pump cycling, pulsation and water hammer when installed between the pressure pump and the water tap or outlet. Usually sitting right beside the water pump the accumulator tank (also called a pressure tank). can be used to moderate the flow to match your Hot Water Service. The accumulator tank can be fitted to new or existing pump system installations.

Failure of a pressure switch on diaphragm water pumps can usually be attributed to excess pressure in your system. An accumulator tank will accumulate the excess pressure resulting in a smooth hassle free system.

Jabsco J21-103 0.6L Accumulator tank Application

Recommended for coffee carts to protect your coffee machine, for food vans or in your boat or van. This accumulator tank is designed for use with any system controlled by a pressure switch.
